

Guardianship Services

Midland Trust Company's court supervised trust team specializes in administering guardianships and other court supervised trusts for minors or disabled adults receiving proceeds from a personal injury or wrongful death lawsuit.

In order to protect and preserve a ward's assets the Court may appoint a corporate fiduciary as guardian of the property. As guardian of the property, Midland Trust Company prudently manages your loved one's affairs including:

- Establishing a monthly budget
- Paying all bills and ongoing expenses
- Determining overall cash flow needs and living expenses
- Coordinating medical insurance payments
- Paying ongoing medical expenses
- Preparing annual court accountings
- Preparing state and federal income tax returns
- Investing and managing all assets, including real estate

Midland will also assist in establishing special needs or supplemental needs trusts to protect your loved one's current or future eligibility for SSI and Medicaid benefits

You can count on Midland to provide superior service.
